THE STORY OF CATCH ME IF YOU CAN

ACT I

In the 1960s, Frank Abagnale Jr., a young con man, is cornered at the Miami International Airport by FBI Agent Carl Hanratty and his team. Hanratty asserts that there's no use in running, as his men are trained to shoot. Before his arrest, Frank promises he will tell him all his secrets if they allow him to tell his story ("Live in Living Color"). A reluctant Hanratty agrees.

In a home in New Rochelle, New York, Frank lives with his parents Frank Abagnale Sr. and Paula Abagnale. His parents met in Montrichard, France, during World War II. Paula was performing at a diner, and noticed Frank Sr. among the soldiers in the audience ("The Pinstripes Are All That They See"), marrying him soon after. Due to money shortages, Frank is unable to attend private school, nonetheless wearing his school jacket to public school. He is taunted there as looking like a substitute teacher, which gives Frank an idea; a few days later, the principal informs his parents that Frank has been teaching French class at the school while their teacher is absent.

One day, Frank walks home from school to find his mother dancing with one of Frank Sr.'s friends. She pleads with him not to tell Frank Sr., but a distraught Frank is soon in court, with Paula and Frank Sr. fighting over custody of him. Frank decides to run away ("Someone Else's Skin"). He soon learns how to create fake checks, cashing them at banks across the country and successfully conning millions of dollars.

While entering a New York City hotel, Frank notices several attractive women, all of them stewardesses; he decides to become a pilot. After creating a fake ID card, he finds a co-pilot job at Pan American World Airways. The workers express the joys of a life in the skies ("Jet Set"). Hanratty finds several fake checks on his desk in Washington, D. C.. He and Agents Branton, Dollar, and Cod are assigned to track down the writer of these fake checks ("Live in Living Color [Reprise]"). Hanratty gives a word of wisdom to whoever wrote the checks: "Don't Break the Rules."

Feeling homesick, Frank Jr. goes to visit Frank Sr., upset to find out that he had to close his store to save money. Frank offers him several checks to improve his financial situation, but Frank Sr. declines, believing that Frank should be happy with his success and not worry about him ("Butter Outta Cream"). Meanwhile, Hanratty sorts through leftover items from the hotel Frank had just stayed at ("The Man Inside the Clues"). Hanratty tracks Frank to a hotel room in Los Angeles, but Frank escapes after tricking Hanratty into believing that Frank is a Secret Service agent named Barry Allen.

Frank attends a holiday party for the airport staff ("Phil Spector's Favorite Christmas"), but ultimately feels lonely, calling Hanratty on a pay phone for comfort. Hanratty, realizing the culprit is just a kid, reveals that he, too, has no one to spend Christmas with ("My Favorite Time of Year").

THE STORY OF CATCH ME IF YOU CAN

ACT II

Frank comes across another staff party, this time for a hospital. When asked what his job is by one of the doctors, Frank lies that he is a pediatrician and calls himself “Dr. Connors.” Feeling sorry for him, the doctor finds him a job at the Atlanta General Hospital, surrounded by nurses who are ready to take the (“Doctor’s Orders”).

Hanratty eventually finds the house of Paula and her new husband, questioning her on the whereabouts of Frank. She tells him not to worry, as does Frank Sr. (“Don’t Be a Stranger”). While talking to Frank Sr. at a bar, Hanratty realizes that both men had overbearing fathers (“Little Boy Be a Man”).

Meanwhile, Frank has fallen in love with one of the nurses, Brenda Strong, though she finds him intimidating. He tells her that he has seen the (“Seven Wonders”) of the world, but that none of them compare to her beauty. Brenda brings Frank to meet her family in New Orleans, where he lies that he’s a lawyer, a doctor, and a Lutheran to impress her father. Her father does not believe him, but gives him permission to be with Brenda after Frank admits how much he loves her. Brenda’s parents, Carol and Roger Strong, tell Frank that they have a “family sing-along” each night after dinner; (“(Our) Family Tree”), after which Frank proposes to Brenda and she accepts.

Shortly before the engagement ceremony, Frank discovers that Hanratty has figured out where he is. He admits the truth to Brenda, telling her his real name: Frank William Abagnale Jr. He promises to return after escaping from Hanratty. Just as he leaves, Hanratty enters, asking Brenda where Frank went. She laments that she loves Frank and would never tell on him (“Fly, Fly Away”), but is tricked into doing so shortly thereafter.

The story returns to the opening scene, where Frank is cornered in the airport. Hanratty informs Frank that his father is dead; a drunken Frank Sr. had fallen down stairs at the bar, breaking his neck. Realizing he has nobody, Frank gives in to Hanratty (“Good-bye”). Although sentenced to fifteen years in prison, Frank is released after seven. Shortly after his release, he is hired by Hanratty and the FBI to track down others who committed crimes like his. Hanratty and Frank embrace, noting that their partnership is (“Strange But True”).

It's been a joy to watch you expand your music skills and develop a love of theater! We are all so proud of you!

Mariella,

Words cannot express how proud we are of you. You truly shine on the stage. You have the most beautiful smile and we absolutely love watching you perform. You work hard in all that you do and are beautiful inside and out. You are kind and compassionate and will be an absolutely amazing nurse.

Congratulations on your 15th year of dancing!

Even though this chapter is ending, another door opens.

We are excited to see what the future holds for you and all of the amazing things that are yet to come. Good luck on your performances! We love you!

Katie and Jessica!

It is really hard to believe you are seniors in high school and will graduate in a few short months with Marie and Nick. Life has been quite a journey with you by our side. It started with your Dad, Me, and Tim saying "Catch Me if You Can" to the 4 of you and is now you saying that to us. Katie, you dance your way into the hearts of everyone you meet and you sing more than you talk! Everyone around you will enjoy your talents, always! And Jessica, you helped to build the wondrous sets just the same way you bring joy into the lives of everyone around you - your infectious smile can light up a room! Have fun in your final few months in high school and all of us cannot wait to see how you continue to make the world around you a better place!

We Love You!

Dear Cast, Crew, and Orchestra,

It's STRANGE BUT TRUE that we made this FAVORITE TIME OF YEAR a show that is LIVE IN LIVING COLOR. We're so proud of your hard work and dedication to this show. We've STUCK TOGETHER to make a production that melted together like BUTTER OUTTA CREAM.

Seniors, as you FLY, FLY AWAY and say GOODBYE, we want to remind you DON'T BE A STRANGER when you come back to visit!

Thank you all for becoming part of OUR FAMILY TREE. We think the SEVEN WONDERS don't compare to you!

Love,

Ms. Sarazen

Upcoming North Hills Drama Events

Friday, May 1: Drama Club Showcase 7:00PM, HS Auditorium

Members of the drama club perform Broadway style solos, duets, monologues, scenes, and original choreography. We induct new members of the International Thespian Society and honor our senior members by presenting them with graduation cords, pins, and certificates to acknowledge their academic and theatrical achievements.

Thur-Fri, June 4-5: Theatre Workshop 9:00AM-5:00PM, High School

Middle and high school students workshop with professional theatre artists and teachers by studying vocal technique, dialects, characterization, styles of dance, audition tips, and more.

Monday-Friday, June 15-19: Elementary Drama Camp 9:00AM-3:00PM, Ross Elementary School

Camp Features:

- Workshops on acting, singing, and dancing!
- A performance of a "Broadway for Kids" musical
- Mini cast party to celebrate the show!

Congratulations

to the Cast, Crew, Orchestra and everyone involved in this production!
